Product Description

Bernet Mt5sz 5L Hander Type Stainless Steel Metering Tank for Gas Station

BERNET MT5SZ Metering Tank with Measuring Barrel

The BERNET MT5SZ Metering Tank is a high-quality solution designed for precise oil measurement in medium to normal temperature conditions. Constructed from durable 1Cr18Ni9Ti stainless steel, this metering tank ensures excellent corrosion resistance and long-term reliability. Its compact size (360mm x 320mm x 615mm) and 5L nominal capacity make it ideal for industrial and laboratory applications.

The measuring barrel is a key component of the MT5SZ, providing accurate volume control for oil dispensing. The measuring barrel features a robust stainless steel construction, ensuring consistent performance. With a well-designed measuring barrel, users can achieve high precision in fluid transfer operations.

The measuring barrel is integrated into the tank's structure, enhancing stability and ease of use. Each measuring barrel is calibrated to meet strict accuracy standards. The measuring barrel also allows for easy cleaning and maintenance, reducing downtime.

Thanks to its reliable measuring barrel, the MT5SZ Metering Tank delivers efficiency in various industrial processes. The measuring barrel ensures minimal waste and optimal fluid handling. Whether for lubricants or hydraulic oils, the measuring barrel guarantees consistent results.

In summary, the BERNET MT5SZ Metering Tank, with its high-precision measuring barrel, is an essential tool for accurate oil measurement. The measuring barrel enhances performance, while the sturdy stainless steel design ensures durability.

Choose the MT5SZ for a dependable measuring barrel and superior metering performance.
